INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Large Cap Value Fund pursues long-term capital appreciation by investing in undervalued stocks of quality, U.S. companies. The Large Cap Value Fund team strives to capitalize on the inefficiencies in the equity market by using robust, quantitative stock selection models to identify undervalued companies that have attractive risk/return profiles.

INVESTMENT PROCESS

The investment process begins with proprietary, quantitative research and modeling that help us define the market environment, analyze the investment universe and rank stocks from most to least attractive. The portfolio team incorporates a fundamental overlay to the process by reviewing buy/sell candidates and industry rankings to validate and interpret model rankings. Catholic screens are applied to ensure that all purchase candidates meet the USCCB investment guidelines.

The performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original cost and current performance may be higher or lower than the performance quoted. The Fund charges a 2.00% redemption fee on shares held less than 30 days. Investment performance does not reflect this redemption fee; if it was reflected, the total return would be lower than shown. For performance data current to the most recent month end, please call 1-844-KC-FUNDS.

* The inception date of the Bloomberg 1000 Value Catholic Values Total Return Index was September 9, 2021, and as such no performance information is available for periods prior to September 9, 2021.

QUARTERLY COMMENTARY

The Bloomberg 1000 Value Catholic Values Index rose +5.31% during the quarter and the Bloomberg US 1000 Value Index rose +5.65%. The Catholic Values index finished higher by +11.20% for the trailing twelve months. The Information Technology sector performed the best on an absolute basis for the quarter, rising +11%, while Consumer Staples brought up the rear, falling -2%. Financials performed the best on an absolute basis for the trailing twelve months, rising +28% while Consumer Staples performed the worst, ending lower by -9%.

The Fund returned +5.26% for the quarter. The Industrials sector added value due to stock selection. Cummins Inc. (1.7% Average Weight, +29.6% Total Return) rose +29.64%. With increasing power demand from data centers as a tailwind, the company reported strong Q2 earnings, especially in their Power Systems & Distribution segment. AECOM (1.7%, +15.9%) rose as well. Their fiscal Q3 earnings report was strong with revenue and earnings beating expectations with their design backlog increasing 5.6% YoY.

The Information Technology sector detracted value. Cisco Systems, Inc. (2.3%, -0.9%) finished lower as the stock price dropped after their fiscal Q4 earnings release. Investors seemed disappointed that the company maintained their 2026 revenue guidance instead of raising it. Western Digital Corporation is in the benchmark but was not owned in the fund for most of the quarter. Shares rose 87.83% over increasing demand for digital storage space due to AI model training and content production, thus dragging on relative performance.

Second quarter earnings came in notably ahead of expectations and third quarter estimates look increasingly likely to be on the conservative side provided tariffs do not bite margins. The rally from April's low has been led primarily by high volatility stocks with high earnings variability, while quality has mostly been shunned. Despite stretched valuations, the AI trade continues to fuel market gains and barring a clear economic acceleration that seems likely to remain the case into 2026. Though we recognize elevated risks, liquidity, fiscal and monetary policies, and regulatory easing all remain supportive of equities. We continue to maintain a balanced approach to portfolio construction and implement tighter risk management while navigating a challenging environment.

Additionally, Index constituents’ weights will be updated in June and December.
